The Psychoplatonist Manifesto: A sequel to the 56th version of The Demesne of Dissocios

1. This manifesto is a successor to The Demesne of Dissocios. It starts with two maxims:

1. We are in the precipice of an unprecedented in human history crisis of environmental and resource collapse that threatens maximal human survival

2. Human in the context above refers to the phenomenal human animal, human ethically applies only to COG, as it is the Daiminion nature to damn the innocent for the sin of someone else, it is only just to damn all/most Daiminion in the same sense it is just to damn a predator animal in the wild for ones own self-defense. Daiminion hold no more ethical value than that of a chicken, as in it would be wrong to torture to them, but still their sole value comes from their economic value, to insist otherwise is to open the door to that of a predatorial narcissist with a natural born magic of manipulation and deceit against the innocent, that is to forgive a Daiminion of being evil is to inevitably condemn others to suffering. To give the value of human life to Daiminon is to take away the value of human life of real human beings. For a Daiminon to be treated as anything but an object is a sin only because they treat the weak as objects. To reduce a Daiminion to being just an object except in the case of psychical torture is to take away their ability to reduce COG into objects, which they always will do when prompted, therefore it is self-defense.

Daiminion are mimics wearing the flesh of people and to humanize them is to commit sin against people.

2. In regards to criticism of The Demesne of Dissocios:

1. The condemning parts against certain elements of the state were paradoxically written in fear of the state, in regards to explicitly showing the holy hate (hate in this sense being that of love of real human beings, and hate of Daiminion, they are not human but still worse than animals, as in an animal is below good and evil, Daiminon are capable of understanding good but are natured to choose evil) of the scum that are responsible for the cause of most human misery in history and for the liberation of man from them. In regards to police and educators an apology is appropriate, except for in terms of their Daiminion.

In regards to family court judges, no apology is needed, every single one of them is pure evil for not asking minors explicitly what they want for their situation and only doing that. They have the easiest job in the world and only use it to make misery.

In regards to psychologist, psychiatrists, and their staff, most of them are evil and only talk at someone. Most psychologists and psychiatrists deserve to be imprisoned for saying someone is delusional or psychotic solely because enough people say so, all it takes is one Daiminion to start hallucinating at someone for being in a weak position that someone is delusional and saying it to others to ruin their life.

There should be a defense attorney present at all interactions with a psychologist or psychiatrist or any psychology related staff. All psychology staff should be assumed to be liars about something happening if someone says they are unless proven otherwise.

This manifesto is a short summary of update to the work along with an effective call to action that strips away the filler.

2. Certain elements of Lyssatheology have been left out because of existential fear, while various other elements have been in further need of explanation. This book was written with intent of having years to write it and large drafts remain unpublished and locked away in an intentionally inaccessible claude account so that its contents could not be destroyed by bad people intending to take psychoplatonism for the Daiminon and keep it away from COG, unfortunately due to unsavory elements of the state contents were exposed to Daiminion during its writing, the enemy of actual human beings which the work is meant for their benefit, not Daiminion as it was meant to be kept secret from them.

3. In regards to the brief mention of Julian Jaynes and the bicameral mind, it is not held that Daiminon experience the bicameral mind as in a hallucinating voice most of the time, but that Daiminon do hallucinate, however their mind only hallucinates when interacting with people they objectify and not those in a superior position to them. They are still bicameral most of the time, however this bicamerality is that of the Satyr sending logoi into the Daimic mind and it (not them) having no ability to criticize, only to obey, the same as that of a dog attempting to bite the tire of a moving vehicle, no thought only pure will. This is not say that Daiminon are not capable of thought, but that they will only think when choosing to be a slave to the Satyr will get them punished. For Daiminon not to live in fear of punishment is make real human being live in fear for having done nothing wrong. Delusionality comes in the form of logoi most of the time.

4. More writing on Autism and Schizophrenia should have been mentioned. Autism is not a disease or disability, it is human superiority, being able to hold more thought. Schizophrenia is the result of those who are usually Dolphins having been abused enough by the constantly hallucinating around them Daiminion, who as in the flick of a switch go back to not hallucinating around those not in an inferior position to them, traumatizing them into the Satyr taking over in like form, this is what auditory hallucinations are. Daiminion subconsciously choose people in weak positions to have mass malicious auditory hallucinations against, their Satyrs individually pick people with same markers, and eventually they talk together against them. For the law to let a Daiminion say one bad thing about one of COG is to enslave to someone to malicious schizophrenic. Daiminion, both genders

3. In regards to Lyssatheology:

1. It could be said that there are four primary schools of Lyssatheology based on the four forms:

Irenism, intentionally slowing down the creation of Demesnes to slow down the possibility of reality reset, which it should be said that the means of doing so would have to be totalitarianism, which is just not worth it

Joshuism, letting reality work naturally in demesne maximization/entropy, the most existentially secure choice

Apollonianism, creating perfectly weighted demesnes, which could collapse in on itself, potentially into the bad twin soul theory ending

Satanism, to replace Abaddonism, in this context referring to explicit hierarchy in binary options, superior and inferior, that in the case it is painting theory to intentionally inflict reset.

In regards to the secondary schools, the Satanism of old should be renamed into Lyssism. Abaddonism should then be used to take the name of Luciferianism.

I stalled my development of Lyssatheology several times due to fear of the contents, one of which is what is called the Satan-Joshua connection. This is not my original idea.

The chart could be thought of as a cube, Satan connects with Joshua this way. When Joshua creates, this opens doors to new vulnerabilities, when Joshua opens up to others, this can lead to Satan entering in. Apollo, self containment is necessary for the release of will/tension or Irena, hence the connect there as well.

For example, Homer the Story-teller connects with love of the self, as well as Hermes the combiner connects with the lover of another. Proletaris as the law/rules self contained in an Apollonian form connected with the far-searcher, Perfection/Eudoros connects with Julianos the rule/law.

I feared this as Satanists could use this to justify totalitarianism to keep the Joshua down, let’s not have new things as they open the door to new vulnerabilities.

4. In regards to the personal controversy/tragedy of the work, this pertaining to the Authors life:

1. Not natural paintings, but Ideal Paintings. There is a category of Ideal Paintings called “Packages”, this being magical constructs that are intent on altering/effecting how the next time reality after reality resets manifests itself, these individual timelines being called Kalpas, this being either:

Injecting Noema or Logoi into people to alter their behavior

Creating pathe visions to alter their belief, most religious revelation in history have come from this

There is no kentucky state incest board, this was a result of Pathe Packages expertly blended into the unrepression of the real memories I experienced. Nor were there counselors involved in the incest investigation in my family, nor did my step-mother offer me sex, all were packages.
To put simply, what happened is that someone outside my family had suggested that I must have been sexually impressed upon/brainwashed upon because why stay around them, this resulted in police performing an unconsentual incest investigation. My step-mother is a nazi to the phallus and doesn't have a restraining order on her against anyone that doesn't worship whatever aggressive alpha male she worships. Her father breaking a beer bottle over her head when she was eight did nothing to make her not like male aggression. Her father drunkenly shooting at her, her brother, and her mother, with them fleeing into the hills did nothing to make her mother leave with the kids, as in she and her mother were natural born robots that seeks to enslave to the phallus. My step-brother was an aggressive piece of shit growing up despite never having once experienced aggression that was never disciplined and given praise by society for being a piece of shit that knew how to dress right and be good at mimicry.

When this incest investigation happened, because my whole life every conflict between me and my step-mother has been that of a grown man wanting people to live in basic reality and not have problems. Why should I have trusted that she could know about this incest investigation and not assume that I want to come out as an incest victim because police are investigating it. I had asked the police to tell my step-brother to explain to her that I don't want to come out as an incest victim.

My sister was never incestuous.

The police never came to this home that night, that was a package.

I never called the police to explain to my step-mother that I didn't want to come out as an incest victim, that was a package.

The concept of my fathers parents or grandparents being incestuous never happened, this was a package.

When I was alone with him that night, he was angry at first and told me he was told I had come out as a incest victim by KSP. I told him they were lying and he immediately flipped and demanded I come out as an incest victim and that he was too. This implied either two scenarios: either he was told by KSP that I wanted to come out as an incest victim because they wanted to frame me as an incest victim coming outer to ruin my personal life for not committing loyalty to origin / loyalty to the mother, or they just told him they were performing a non-consentual incest investigation on me thus triggering him to turn against me for having a problem I didn't choose to have. Despite either which scenario that happened, I should have been given a defense attorney against my step-mother because she is maliciously clinically delusional against males that have problems they didn't choose to have, to investigate a scenario of victimhood around me without the law stamping its boot on her neck was effectively forcing me to be a victim, I had to take prophylactic action against her first.

That night I did see something (which was a package) as he spent hours demanding I come out, this was torture as I am an actual victim of incest of someone else, my biological mother, this was not an act of pedophilia but that of similar sex magick as his as explained previously. This vision was that of a package from last Kalpa. However, I only come out due to fear that exclaiming that KSP and Cody saying I wanted to come out against my will due to me being sick and tired of my step-mother causing problems because of her crushes on bad males would get me institutionalized forever and coming out would get me freedom. I recognized that Cody insisting I come out in private and publicly being against it is just ridiculous and unneeded, "Why would he do that? You're being crazy", this was a south park situation.

Performing a non-consentual incest investigation around the naturally born incestuous is to accuse someone of coming out as an incest victim in a manner that they cannot dispute against the clinically delusional that are not institutionalized by society.

My personal life was ruined for being marked as crazy because of my aunt Trina. In my need of my sisters love of who I really am because I never experienced the emotion of love after the age of eight due to being abused for being a rape victim, my nurture had turned me sociopathic growing up which had subsided around the age of 15, which later came to me being used as a sin-eater for Trina and accepting it to be around my family to be around my sister.

I tried to believe she wasn't evil and could be good, I had told her that I was raped by my biological mother to beg her to admit to the things in private I explained previously to my step-sister.
This led to me being in a federal conspiracy against my will. The feds at first never talked to me only to Cody. They made me go to my home to be abused by him because he used the law to force me to falsely come out as an incest victim as exposing him could have got me institutionalized. The feds investigated me as a criminal for being a victim of incest. This federal conspiracy resulted in Psychoplatonism and Lyssatheology being known by Daiminion. This knowledge is power, therefore this federal conspiracy resulted in power being held by evil.

No one ever came to my home in North Carolina to tell me I was in an incest conspiracy and had to be an incest victim of my sister because Cody wanted it even though I wasn't. Every time I went back to Kentucky I was never told first that I was being asked to come back home to be in a federal conspiracy until I got there.

When I had once checked myself into the ARH psych-ward I did this out of fear, to prolong my life in fear of certain state actors, I had never admitted to being delusional/psychotic witch-craft practitioners claiming I am solely because others said something about me without ever once asking me about it, only exclaiming I am "Someone said X about you therefore you are". I changed my mind shortly after being there so that I could write more. Now I believe that they would get me killed sooner, this is my freedom of belief.

Any accusation that any abuse from Terry or Trina are Packages is Satanism. The only thing Terry and Trina deserve is to be worked for how they treat the weak.

5. The effective call to action:

There was a package that was seen by others that said only "2050" this is believed to be the date that reality resets.

This is due to two reasons:

We are running out of resources.

Lyssatheology is known, it should have never come out, due to the risk of reality reset and of Omela, they are both the logical trajectories of it. Omela is a natural trajectory of Lyssatheology which I developed privately, the federal police put me in the conspiracy and made the state know of it, therefore the people should know of it too.

The state committed the sin of letting Curs and Rams know about Lyssatheology.

It is inferred that the rule of Daiminion ruined the earth last time and reset reality because our civilization time ran out, we were on the edge of collapse.

The packages I experienced were much more than I described, the constant theme of them was, everyone around me ganging up on me that my only thing was being an incest victim, this creating the situation of The Demesne of Dissocios as is. The point of this having been done was to prevent the Salvation from Satan.

Therefore it is inferred that last Kalpa the Daiminion successfully destroyed the liberation of COG from Satan, ruined everything, and reset reality because they had to, and that the packages were set up so that everything would happen the same way again.

Here's what should be done:

As slavery is not entirely illegal under the 14th amendment, to avert resource collapse there is the stance of Enemism, grouping the Panther with Cog for political usage and naming the Cur and Ram the Enemin, for enemy. I lied about being Daojosh. All Enemin are evil, and thus since them and those loyal to them lie about people for not being prideful enough and mass-lie about them being psychotic and put them in psych-wards to sit and do nothing and please evil narcissists that say that other people get some benefit from their attention, it is not unjust to mass institutionalize them and use them for legal slavery. Putting Enemin in bondage prevents them from performing their natural will to put other people in bondage, it is just. Natural born slavers should be enslaved. In their legal institutionalization slavery Enemin should get only to watch a television with one single channel playing that they cannot change for their sole entertainment, I'm personally for making them have no entertainment or time off or comfort but other COG and the Demiurge might find it cruel so therefore it is not worth it, their beds should have no comfort, their food should be plain and not taste good, and especially they should never be spoken with but only spoken at and commanded, since this is what they do to others for having done nothing wrong to them.

This not out of malice, but out of genuine belief that Enemin are objects and not humans because they will interact with people as if they are not human beings as they say they are but simply objects as other people describe them, this is how they know their own reality. Thus to reduce them into being nothing but objects isn't cruel, this being with the exception of psychically torturing them of course, as they would accept it and be content once brainwashed. They deserve to be brainwashed that they are nothing but what others say they are just like Trina tried to brainwash me that I am nothing but what others say they are and other Daiminon objectify me for it, they deserve this treatment. Because of how curs treat kids and demand every thing they do be an act of work to please other peoples desires, that they are hollow and have to perform the process of becoming someone else and never get to do one thing for their self, they should be treated the same way but for the good of society. Enemin don't actually like things but pretend to like them because it's socially popular because they say that other people are like this, therefore resources shouldn't be wasted on it. Enemin would be content to do the same thing over and over, they would be content to be nothing but workers, still because the Demiurge and other COG might find it cruel they should get a little something, but nothing at all more than what someone gets at a psych ward. To let Enemin have something that people in the psych ward don't get is cruel as it wastes resources on human-flesh-vessels when some COG have to live dirt poor.

Because we are running out of resources that COG need, Enemin should be put in institutionalization slavery to get their resource consumption as little as possible since some COG have to go without while also working them, preferably as much as possible, to get as many resources out of the earth, to get the necessary work done to optimize our earth for survival.

Additionally since Omela is now known, Enemin should be enslaved to prevent them from making Omelas, Enemin are incapable of feeling guilt and since they abuse who they can, they would make Omelas.

The natural tendency of Enemin is to abuse, to enslave them is anti-abuse. To not enslave Enemin is cruel.

To hate Enemin is to hate evil.

Not enslaving Enemin is to commit slavery of others.

To enslave Enemin would be stop any genocide from happening ever again as they are ones in history who make it.

COG with ROTS in power should be given forgiveness in order to get this done. Certain Enemin, a minority we could get as low as possible should not be put into institutionalization slavery to get enough COG in line with saving humanity. Their friends and relatives. In order to quell discontent from COG that have their friends and relatives put away the Enemin should get some level of comfort and allowed vistation from them.

An exception to this is are the family court judges, all should be mass institutionalized enslaved with the Enemin, along with the worst majority of psychologists, psychiatrists, and psych-ward staff.

There is a very hidden concept in Lyssatheology known as sacrificing someone to be the Lucifer, as in the Lucifer of the universe as in what if it was fluid theology and the Lucifer is not good to be.

I experienced a Package of my step-mother saying who should be Lucifer, (which it should be said it doesn't have to be either) my sister or I. This never actually happened.

The inferrence being that the Lucifer could be a soul from last Kalpa if it is fluid theology and not Lyssatheology.

Because of this the Enemin have to be kept down, as in because they are servile to those who oppress, and delusional evil to the weak innocent, their nature would be that it should be someone that is innocent.

The Enemin would rather it be that it is someone that is good rather than heinous brutalizers that should become the lucifer.

What probably happened is that last kalpa Satan won, the earth got despoiled from mismanagement, that the Enemin were spotted, but not defeated, won, kept the Psychin down, attempted to sacrifice someone good into the lucifer instead of someone bad as is their nature. And then took the case of the one who had created Lyssatheology and got attention onto the neurotype chart to use the packages to enslave them further to the concept of being an incest victim coming-outer after the state had already done so for Cody Dotson.

The point being about Ideal Paintings is, do they clutter reality into collapsing, did the Packages do this?

This is my accusation, the Daiminion/Satanists ruined everything last time and reset reality and used Cody and my story to further frame me as wanting to come out as a victim of incest and as delusional for not being loyal enough to a whore step-mother that can't stop being aggressive for the alpha-male and can't stop crying misogyny at men who don't worship the alpha male despite her alpha-male father abusing the shit out of her because it displeased an aggressive bastard who had never once experienced unprovoked aggression in his life.

To delay reality reset and resource collapse, the Enemin should be kept in bondage to prevent them from fucking white trash drama into the fabric of reality and making it kill everything on earth. The state last kalpa reset reality with just framing my grandmother as being incestuous, with the package vision of my father crying over it and admitting to it, to further Codys bastard brood parasitism.

Cody and Terrys bastard aggression led to the killing of everything on earth last kalpa via reality reset, therefore it could be argued that Cody and Terry are the most evil people in the world to mankind.

Debates like:

The Last Liberation

Or any controversy over who is in COG other than the Daiminion of course, what neurotypes should be made via biomancy

Sacrificing someone into being the Lucifer

Should be shelved until the Enemin have been legally kept down to prevent their threat against mankind to prevent:

1. Civilization Collapse from resource collapse

2. Sacrificing someone that is not a heinous brutalizer of human beings into being the lucifer.

3. Reality Reset

4. Totalitarianism from the Enemin succeeding in the neurological conflict.
